Materials

- Canvas or paper
- Acrylic paint in two colors (one light and one dark)
- Paintbrushes

- Water

Instructions

1. Start by painting a light wash of the light color over the entire canvas or paper. This will create the background for your painting.
2. Next, paint a darker wash of the dark color over the top of the light color. This will create the shadows and depth in your painting.
3. Once the paint is dry, use a small brush to paint the details of your cabin. You can add windows, a door, a chimney, and any other details you like.
4. Finally, use a white paint pen to add highlights to your painting. This will help to make the snow look more realistic.

Tips

- To make the snow look more realistic, use a thick brush and apply the paint in short, choppy strokes.
- If you want to add more depth to your painting, you can use a third color to create shadows and highlights.
- This painting is also a great way to practice your brushwork. Experiment with different brushes and techniques to see what works best for you.

This easy winter painting project is a great way to get into the holiday spirit. It's also a great way to practice your painting skills and have some fun. So grab your supplies and give it a try!
