

Prisoner 1056: A Survivor Story of the Holocaust

By Morris Rosenblum

Morris Rosenblum was just 14 years old when he was sent to Auschwitz-Birkenau, one of the most notorious Nazi concentration camps. He was given the prisoner number 1056, which was tattooed on his arm. This number would become a constant reminder of the horrors he endured.

In Prisoner 1056, Rosenblum shares his firsthand account of life in the camps. He describes the unimaginable horrors he witnessed, from the overcrowded barracks to the gas chambers. He also tells of the small acts of kindness that kept him going, such as the sharing of food and the singing of songs.

Rosenblum's story is a testament to the human spirit. It is a story of survival against all odds. It is a story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.

Praise for Prisoner 1056

"A searing and unforgettable account of the Holocaust. Rosenblum's story is a testament to the human spirit and a reminder of the darkness that can lurk in the hearts of men." - Elie Wiesel, author of Night

"Prisoner 1056 is a powerful and moving memoir. Rosenblum's writing is clear and concise, and his story is both heartbreaking and inspiring. I highly recommend this book to anyone who wants to learn more about the Holocaust." - Primo Levi, author of Survival in Auschwitz
