Prepare to lose yourself in a literary labyrinth as the Ice Trilogy New York Review Classics whisks you away to a realm of gripping suspense, captivating adventure, and profound human experiences.

This exceptional collection, meticulously curated by the esteemed New York Review Classics, presents three enthralling novels: Ice, Smoke, and Mirrors. Each standalone masterpiece weaves an intricate tapestry of intrigue, romance, and danger, leaving you mesmerized from start to finish.

Ice*: A Chilling Descent into Obsession

Unravel the chilling secrets of 'Ice,' where obsession consumes and truth remains elusive.

In Ice, we encounter the enigmatic Dr. Lucas North, a brilliant scientist haunted by his past. As he embarks on a perilous Arctic expedition, he becomes entangled in a web of deceit and murder. Suspicion casts its icy grip upon the isolated team, and North finds himself on a treacherous quest to uncover the truth.

With each chilling revelation, the boundaries between reality and illusion blur. Obsession consumes the characters, driving them to desperate acts in a frozen landscape where survival itself becomes an unforgiving battle.

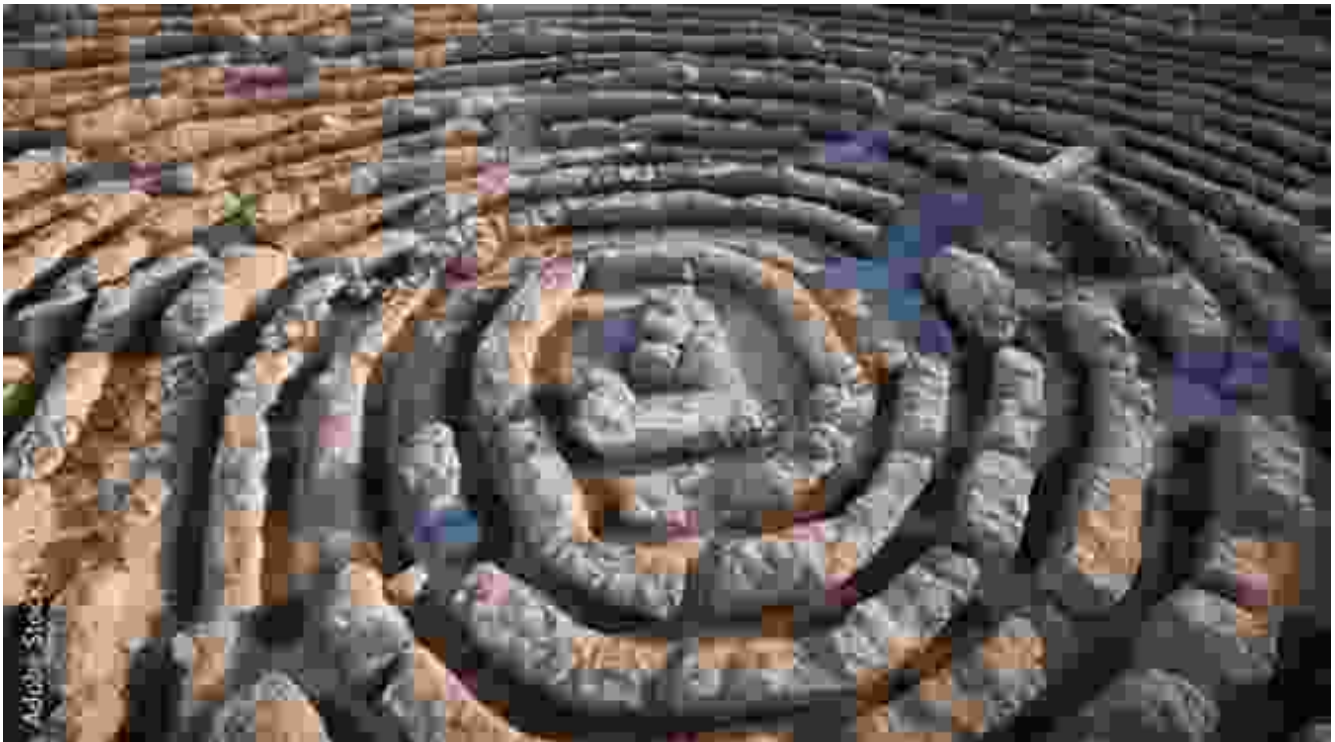

Smoke: A Dangerous Dance with Fire

Smoke transports us to the sun-kissed shores of North Africa, where a cast of enigmatic spies and enigmatic lovers engage in a perilous game of cat and mouse. As tensions rise and loyalties are tested, the line between right and wrong becomes perilously thin.

With every step, the characters are drawn deeper into a labyrinth of deception, where betrayal lurks in the most unexpected places. Amidst the shifting sands and scorching heat, they must navigate a treacherous path, where the consequences of their choices are both immediate and far-reaching.

Mirrors: A Shattering Reflection of Reality

Confront the illusions of 'Mirrors,' where reality fractures and truth emerges from the shattered pieces.

In the labyrinthine world of Mirrors, renowned art historian Dr. Julia Kydd finds herself at the heart of a mesmerizing puzzle. As she investigates the mysterious disappearance of a priceless painting, she stumbles upon a hidden world of deception and intrigue.

Reality itself becomes a malleable entity, as Julia navigates a treacherous landscape where truth is distorted by mirrors and illusions. In a race against time, she must uncover the secrets that lie beneath the surface, confronting her own preconceptions and the true nature of perception.
